Exhibit Statement:

Living on the Mendonoma Coast is "living on the edge." Literally, on the edge of the Pacific, earthquake faults, changing terrain, weather, etc. There are other "edges" which we deal with every day. For example, we have been drawn to live in this place of natural abundance, but some of us are experiencing the edge of subsistence living. And with large numbers of retirees living here, we observe and experience the sometimes painful edges of aging and dying. As artists, we explore these edges -- physical, psychological, and social.

Rules

"Living on the Edge" will be a North Coast Artist Guild (NCAG) non-juried exhibit, open only to NCAG members showing work not previously shown at GAC. Membership in the Guild is available to artists who wish to join and participate ($25 NCAG membership fee).

All work will be for sale, all 2-D and 3-D media accepted (with the exception of performance art, installations, and video). Work is to be all original, created within the last 12 months, responding to the theme "Living on the Edge."

The exhibit will be judged and modest monetary prizes awarded. Our judge is Donna Saeger, owner of the Donna Saeger Gallery in San Rafael.

No size limits, but for very small, very large, or unusual pieces please contact curator to make arrangements before submitting this registration form.

Please do not enter works of exceptional fragility, or off-theme, or unfinished (wet, etc.) Wall art must be fitted to hang securely without the wire showing. Saw tooth hangers prohibited.

For special handling or display instructions, please attach a page to this form, with photo if appropriate.
