This is a workshop designed for painters who want to expand their vocabulary and deepen their work. Starting with realism you will move in many directions, expanding your vision with a seven color palette, a Hans Hofman's approach. We will work with luster, image, memory, intuition-form and space, and more. Come and push the edge and find something new. Laura has over 10 years of teaching experience. She has combined her movement training with painting to teach a unique approach to painting. Visit laurarosegallery.com for more information.

MAKING THE TALISMAN TUNIC

Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 16 and 17 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fee: $128. Instructor: Rosemary Eichhorn. Call Jen Dewey for information 847-3881.

At this two-day workshop Pacific Piecemakers Quilt Guild presents Rosemary Eichhorn. Her lecture and trunk show will feature her own collage magic, some of the most creative sewing techniques you could find anywhere. Eichhorn is an artist whose wearable art, or "artwear," bears her trademark of enduring elegance, an unmistakable signature. During the weekend workshop students will design and construct an elegant "Talisman Tunic." using this unique pattern as a blank canvas for fabric collage and threadwork. Techniques will include free motion stitchery, metallic and heavier threads, bobbin work, and Rosemary's amazing pockets, created for Threads Magazine designer challenge.
