

Upcoming Workshops

Love and the Unconscious: the Psychology and Literature

Instructors: M.A. Brauer and Ida Egli

Tuesdays, September 9 - October 14

Sign-up by September 9; after that, check availability

We will use the stories of couples we find in literature as illustrations of what unconscious attachment dynamics look like as they are played out in the fictional lives of the characters.

Voluptuous Applique

Instructor: Cara Gulati

Thursday, September 18

Sign-up by September 18; after that, check availability

Create your own original and unique block design with wild, curvy seams. Freezer paper, glue and invisible thread are some of our tools. A light box creates transparency. Color gradations can make amazing impact!

Nigiri Sushi

Instructor: Laura Leigh

Sunday, September 21

Sign-up by September 14; after that, check availability

This class is a follow-up for students who took Laura Leigh's introductory class, Roll Your Own Sushi.

Revival of A Lost Art - Mata Ortiz Pottery

Instructor: Jerardo Tena Sandoval

Saturday & Sunday, October 11 & 12

Sign-up by September 1; after that, check availability

Learn to create your own Mata Ortiz pot using the "tortilla/chorizo" method and Jerardo will teach you the burnishing, painting and firing techniques used in Mata Ortiz.

DETAILED INFO ON THESE AND OTHER CLASSES, AND SIGN UP FOR EMAIL ANNOUNCEMENTS OF UPCOMING WORKSHOPS, IS ALWAYS AVAILABLE AT GUALALAARTS.ORG

The Workshop Committee is also always looking for new workshop ideas and for volunteer docents to assist our instructors during their visits, so if you would like to instruct a workshop or volunteer please contact Lynn Bailey at lbailey2@aol.com or (707) 684-0475.
