

Gualala Arts Groups

Pacific Piecemakers Quilt Guild Monthly Meeting Gualala Arts Center Coleman Auditorium Friday, October 10, 12:30 p.m. – 3:30 p.m.

Marie Strait, Board Chair of San Jose Museum of Quilts and Textiles, will speak about the museum's collection and operation. She will be bringing some of the special quilts from the collection to share with the Guild. Free to members; $5 for guests

Gualala Arts

Readers Theater

Tuesday, Oct. 7 @ 7 p.m.

The Trip to Bountiful

by Horton Foote

Info contact Wendy Beaty @ (925) 788-1064

Gualala Arts

Book Club

October Selection

The Paris Wife

by Paula McLain

Info contact Pam Todd @ (707) 785-3843
or Alice Combs @ (707) 884-3741

Gualala Arts Culinary Guild is Looking for Members!

The Gualala Arts Culinary Guild, one of the longest running Gualala Arts interest groups, is actively seeking new members. This food focused group is critical to the success of many of the Gualala Arts events, including exhibit openings, fundraisers, theatrical and musical performances and also represents Gualala Arts to the community at other events such as the recent Coastal Seniors Spaghetti Dinner. The Culinary Guild wants members who are interested in being behind the bar, in the kitchen or out in the house serving our guests. If you are a bartender at your home parties, come help stock and setup our bars before exhibits and events, mix and serve drinks and help create a festive atmosphere during events. If you like to cook, our exhibit openings, Top Hat Dinner, Art (and More!) Off the Wall, New York New Year's Eve, 70th Birthday Celebration and other events can use your skills. Our visiting musicians and performers are always amazed at the "Redwood Carpet" treatment they get from us, which includes Gualala Arts serving them a delicious meal prepared by the Culinary Guild. All of these events also need people to serve food, pour wine or champagne, clean up tables, provide coffee and desserts and all the other food related things that make our events so successful.

If you are interested in becoming an active member of the Gualala Arts Culinary Guild, please call Gualala Arts at (707) 884-1138, Ben Klagenberg at (707) 785-3530 or email Info@GualalaArts.org. No matter what your interest, this Guild will help you satisfy it!

